

To investigate the effect of IAA growth regulator on plant growth

What is a plant growth regulator?

What plant tissue did you use in this investigation?

Describe how you carried out this investigation.

Why are the solutions in this investigation made from serial dilutions, rather than by weighing and dissolving the chemical?

Describe the control that you used.

Describe the results that you obtained in the experiment and in the control.